Foreword

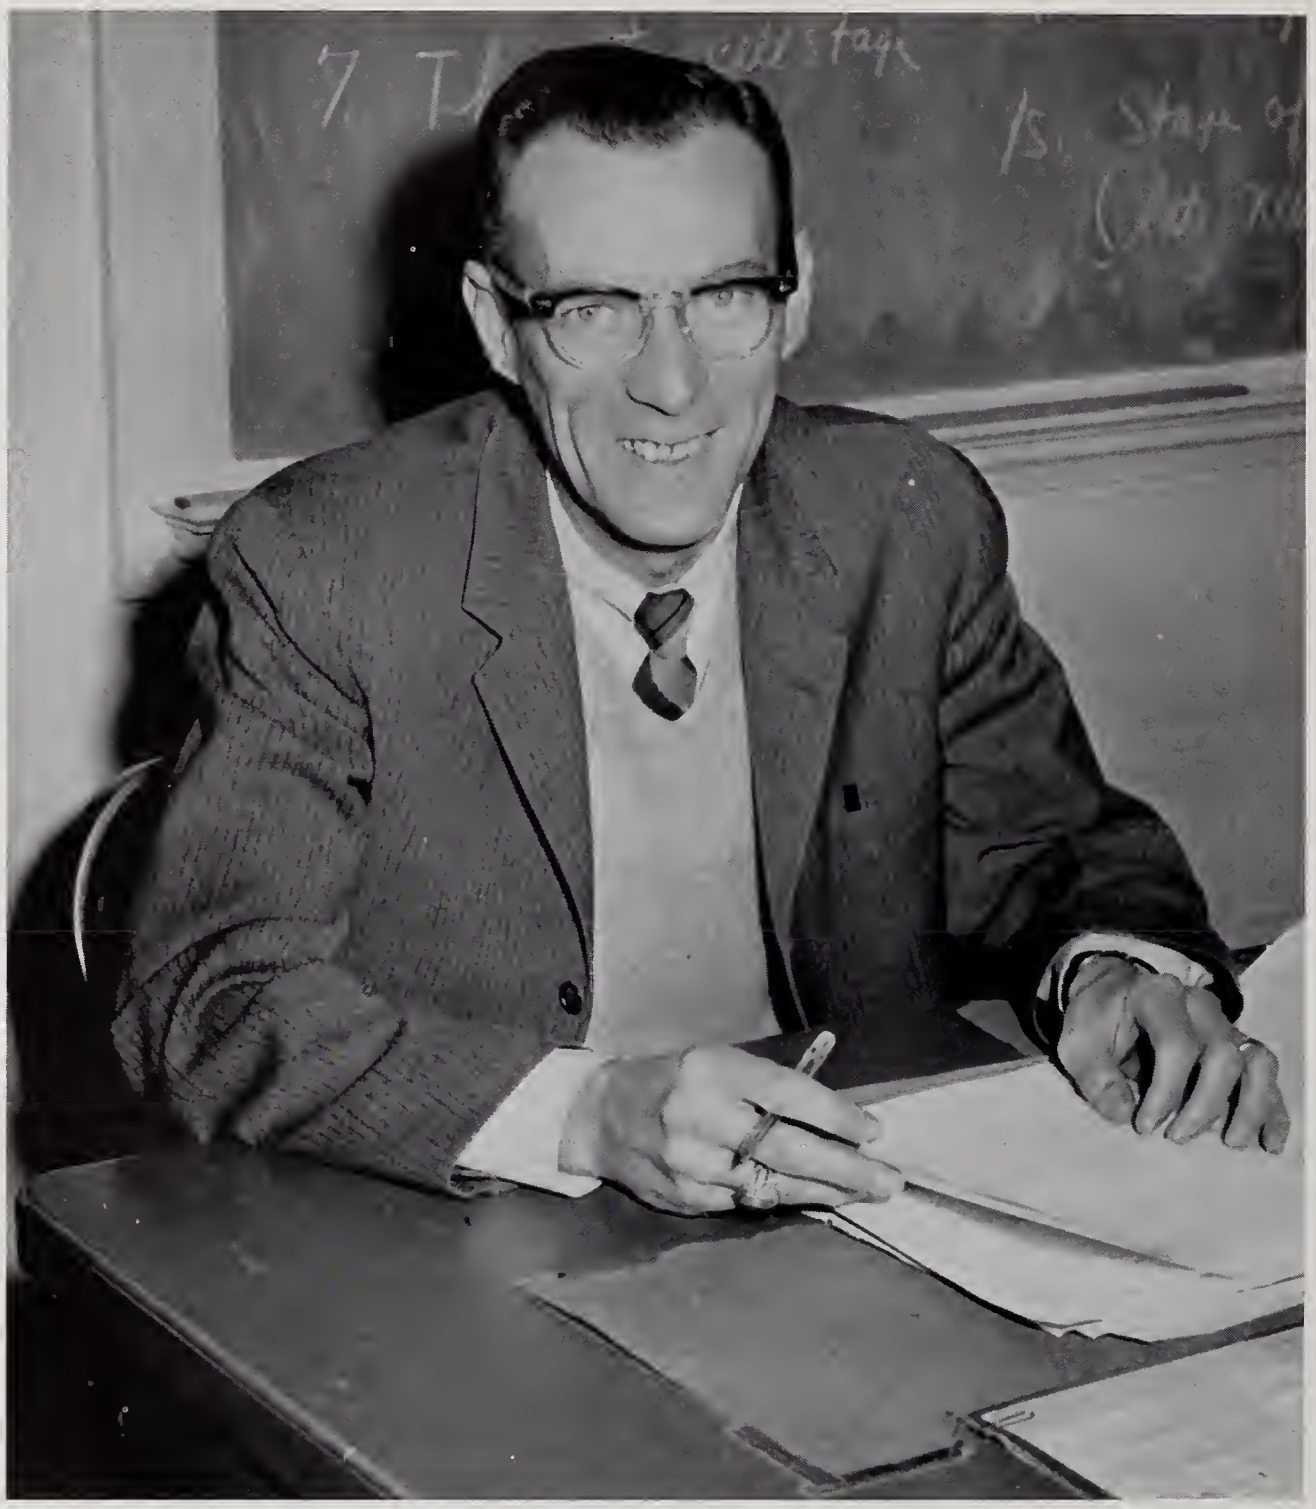
The year of 1963 proved to be a very beneficial and productive one for Wilmington High School. Most will remember it for its undefeated football team. Others will think of the reawakening of both the Student Council and the National Honor Society. There was Mr. Irrisistible Day and countless science assemblies. Fortunately (?) there were no bomb scares. The cafeteria was the scene of many wild parties and the corridors were ever full of students running to lunch. The juniors proved they could be as disconcerting as the seniors when they held their variety show and Krazy Day. (Good luck to Mr. McMahon next year.) Most will agree that it was a busy year with more and more emphasis being put on studying. But there were good times and fun to be had too! It is our goal to recreate these times in our yearbook.

Dedicated to . . .



Mr. Roger Breakey

We, the Class of 1963 of Wilmington High School, in appreciation of the help received, the advice given, and the concern rendered us, both as a class and as individuals, dedicate this issue of the "Hourglass" to our advisor, Mr. Breakey. By his dedication to the teaching profession, Mr. Roger Breakey has evoked our deep respect and lasting admiration.

THE EDITORS

To the Class of 1963:

The School Committee joins with me in congratulating you upon the completion of your four year course at Wilmington High School.

We are particularly proud of your scholastic accomplishments and your all around citizenship efforts during these past four years. In the former, your college acceptance record was noteworthy; in the latter, your contribution to the general welfare of the school was exemplary.

To all of you we extend our best wishes for success and happiness in your chosen fields.

Harold S. Shea
Superintendent of Schools

Nineteen hundred and sixty-three has been an outstanding year in the annals of our country. Science and technology are at an all time high. The United States has arrived in the Space Age with Gordon Cooper's successful orbiting of the world.

Nineteen hundred and sixty-three is also the year of your graduation from Wilmington High School. We trust that it will be an outstanding year for each of you. We further hope that whatever plans you launch this year will be as successful as the launching of Gordon Cooper. However, it is well to remember that the space flight, so expertly maneuvered, did not take place solely by Gordon Cooper. Nor did it involve merely those few phenomenal hours in outer space. Countless men had both feet on the ground and put in endless months of planning and preparation before this flight could be achieved.

So too in your own case, countless parents, teachers, administrators, and civic minded citizens have spent years in the planning and preparation of your various careers. Dream the loftiest dreams, but keep both feet on the ground that you may see them materialize.

Bernard P. McMahon
Principal

My parting words to you, the members of the Class of 1963, are to remember that we live under the greatest system of government in the whole world. Its success or failure depends upon citizen participation.

I urge each and every one of you to live according to our laws, and, when you reach the voting age, to participate actively in voting for the best qualified candidates for each public office, regardless of race, creed, or color.

Communism is a constant threat to our nation, but I believe the greatest threat to our democratic way of life comes not from the subversive groups dedicated to its overthrow, but rather from an apathetic citizenry.

May each and every one of you be successful in your future endeavors.

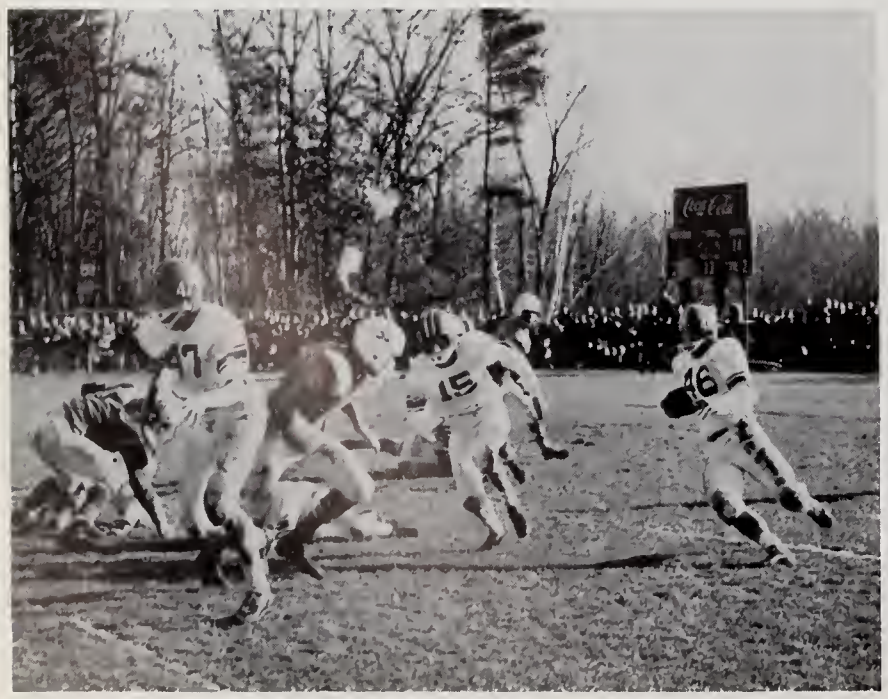
W.H.S. 44 BURLINGTON 0

Wilmington High started the season on September 22 by bombing Burlington. Our Varsity played only eighteen of forty minutes and they scored 44 points in those few minutes to stun the Red Devils. This shocked the rest of the league also. Bowen and Perdicaro led the offense while Hall and Bevilacqua sparked the defense.

W.H.S. 38 BILLERICA 6

On September 29 the boys travelled to Billerica to take on the Indians. The game was rated as a toss-up. However, the score of the first quarter, W.H.S. 20—B.H.S. 0, made it plain to see that the only thing being tossed up was Billerica. Fuller and Huston led the team to a final 38-6 victory.

Fran McLaughlin scores from an Allard pass.



Bowen cuts back on the kickoff.

W.H.S. 30 BEDFORD 7

The October 6 game, with the Blue Devils from Bedford, was rained out. The game was played on the following Monday after school. Bedford was fighting hard, but the Wildcats were too powerful for them. Fran McLaughlin was outstanding on defense, as was center, Bill Ballou.

W.H.S. 30 DRACUT 20

Thirteen may not be lucky, but it almost was for Dracut, as they played W.H.S. on October 13. Our chargers took the worst physical beating that could be imagined. For three quarters, the Middies outplayed the Wildcats, holding a 20-8 lead. In the last quarter, our team came to life, as 6000 fans cheered them on. Jack Bowen and Mike Farrell led the way to a 30-20 victory.

Last minute pep talk.

Jackie Bowen plows through.

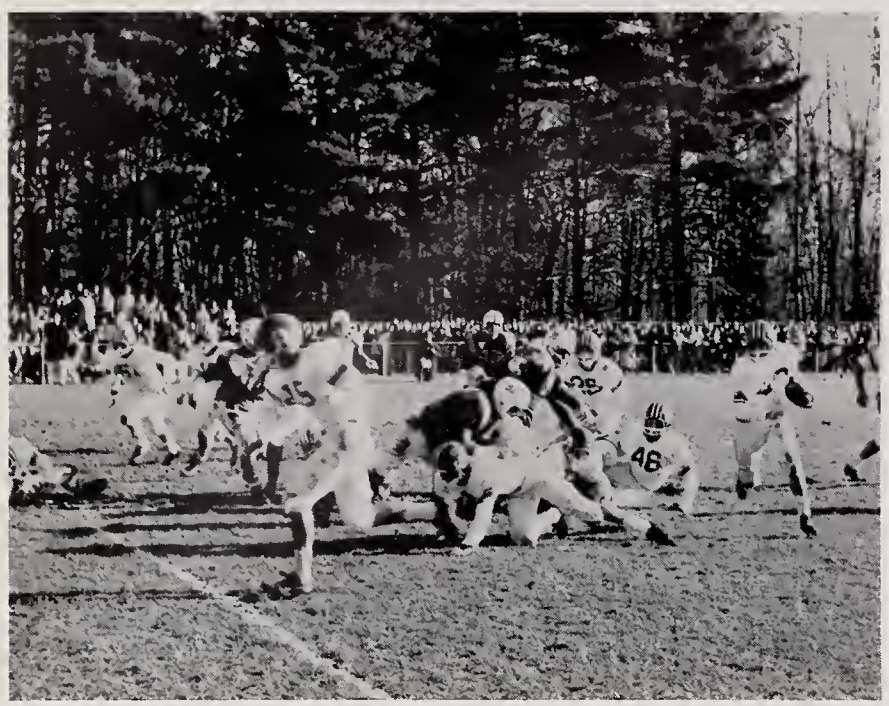
W.H.S. 50 NORTH ANDOVER 24

The team travelled to North Andover on October 27, to take on another undefeated team, the Scarlet Knights. This was a game of broken records. The Wildcats left the field with a 30-20 lead at the half. The second half told a different story, as our defense, led by Dave Fuller and Jim Gillis, never gave ground. At the same time, our offense, led by Bowen, exploded for 20 more points to make the final score 50-24.

W.H.S. 18 CHELMSFORD 0

On October 20 Wilmington travelled to Chelmsford to meet the favored and undefeated Lions. Their huge defensive line was able to sustain Bowen to only one TD, but it was unable to cope with the passing of QB Dickie Allard, as he passed for two touchdowns. Allard and Hall led the team to an upset of 18-0.

Defense moves in to stop another threat.



Perdicaro breaks loose for a 55 yard jaunt.

W.H.S. 6 NORTH READING 0

On November 3, we travelled to North Reading to encounter the Hornets in the pouring rain. The Hornets thought they could "bog down" our offense by calling on Mother Nature. On the first play, Jackie Bowen ripped off a 65 yard TD. For the rest of the game, neither team could move in the four inches of mud. Gillis and Cotter led the defense as they finished the game with a 6-0 score.

W.H.S. 20 LYNNFIELD 0

On November 12, we faced powerful Lynnfield. There were 7000 fans on hand to witness the passing of Dickie Allard to ends, Babine and Fuller. The Wildcats handed the Pioneers their first loss of the season, 20-0. Gillis and Bowen led the defense to its fourth shut out of the season.

Gillis clears the way for another Bowen TD.

Wildcats' defensive unit holds again.

W.H.S. 22 TEWKSBURY 0

Wilmington High School Seniors took the field for the last time as "Wildcats." It was a great game because the boys finished as Class "C" Champs and paced W.H.S. to an unprecedented, second undefeated team and also its second Lowell Suburban League Championship.

Boys' Basketball

Wilmington High School enjoyed a fairly successful campaign with a 7-7 League Record and a 9-8 overall record. Jon Fairfield led the team scoring with 257 points followed by Keith Arnold with 138 points both of whom were juniors and will be back again next year.

Seniors, Captain Tom Grant and Jimmy Gillis, represented the team in the League All-Star Game. Tom Grant had 122 points for the season and Jimmy Gillis followed with 103 points. Senior Billy Williamson helped out by pulling in the rebounds. Ronnie Wybert rounded out the starting five to score 69 points for the season.

Girls' Basketball

Led by Coach Dadoly and captain Joyce Randell, the girls' basketball team broke even this year. Since there are only three varsity members graduating, the hopes of a better team next year are high. The highlight of the season was the downfall of Wilmington's teachers in the annual students versus teachers game. High scorers of the year were Peggy Montague (160 points), Judy Halpin (141 points), and Joyce Randell (130 points).

Peggy Montague and Judy Halpin were chosen to represent Wilmington in the League All-Star game.

Under the able guidance of Mr. Kelley and the leadership of Captain Jay Boeri, the cross-country team had another successful season as far as the members of the team were concerned. For success to them is something different from the success that participants in other sports know. Others feel that winning is success. But to the cross-country member, success is the realization that one has done the best that can be expected from him. That is why the spirit of the cross-country team remains undaunted. The boys, although they do not always win, have the intense sense of pride in the fact that they have accomplished. They do not receive the glory and the awards of the football team. Instead, they are rewarded with the esteem of their fellow members and the knowledge that against all hardships they have conquered themselves and performed admirably.

Track

The track team enjoyed a fairly successful season this year, as the men in blue rolled to a 3-3 record and placed third in the Lowell Suburban Conference Meet at North Andover. To start off the season Coach Frank Kelley issued brand new uniforms to the trackmen in the hopes that they would take a brand new outlook on track and win for a change. And they did not disappoint him!

Kelley's Klunkies, after waging unsuccessful seasons the past few years, decided they would klunk no more and turned themselves into Frank's Ferocious. They ripped apart Tewksbury, North Andover, and Methuen. Dracut managed to squeeze by our fellas by a slim margin of six points, 46-40. The team lost another tough one to Billerica, this time by the even narrower margin of four points, 45-41. The only team that really outclassed our boys this year was Chelmsford, which was the Class C champion of the state. Even then, when faced with the almost surety of defeat, the boys gave it their maximum 115% effort and went down fighting.

SECOND ROW: Dennis Dimaggio, Mike Anderson, Corey Coombs, Pete Emery, Tommy Grant.

Wilmington High's baseball team started off the season with a bang as they defeated Burlington 22-8, and later Chelmsford 5-0, but the highly rated, twice Lowell Suburban League champs couldn't get up enough steam to keep rolling and ended the season with a 7-7 record. Jeff Williamson, Johnny Robbins, and Dennis Dimaggio were the hurlers, while Jim Gillis, Dave Fuller, and Pete Emery led the batsmen and Kenny Sugarman and Mike Farrell led the defense.

CLUBS

High School Band

The Wilmington High School Band has proven itself to be one of the most successful bands in the area. Under the direction of Mr. Alfio Graceffa, the band made many exceptional performances at football games, as well as at many high school assemblies. The class of nineteen hundred and sixty-three is proud of the exhibitions of the band and wishes it luck in the years to come.

The National Honor Society progressed further this year towards the attainment of its objectives of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

The activities of the organization for the year included:

1. The formal induction ceremony where the new Junior and Senior members were initiated into the Society by some of the members who had been initiated the previous year.
2. The first National Honor Society Banquet at which the members received their Honor Society Pins in the presence of their parents, faculty, and school committee.
3. A discussion on city and town government given by Mr. Bouchard, the Town Manager.

ONE STEP BEYOND

As we, the Class of 1963, enter into the vast world about us, we must stop a moment to see if we are prepared for the change we face. We will have important decisions to make, difficult crises to subdue and many different people to meet. To join into society, we need a little more than fancy clothes and sophisticated manners. It is important that we have three basic elements before we take that one step beyond. Love, patience, and understanding are these elements.

Love is an inner feeling of men. It is the most wonderful emotion God has given man. Love is tender, warm, and sympathetic. When the days grow meaningless to us, we have lost the love that should be implanted in our hearts. As we leave this high school, it is vitally important that we keep love in our hearts. We need to be shown over and over again that love is present in this world of mechanical development. Many times we concern ourselves with the problems of the world and completely forget about everyday kindnesses which are shown through love. Love is considered immaterial in places such as Russia. The Russions are told that love is of no value to them and that it is a waste of time to even think of love. We live in a free country and are allowed to love whomever we wish. As citizens of this free country, we should not disregard or lose love.

Patience is dear to man. It is not something we are born with. We must acquire the ability to be patient. Too few people in this world know how to remain calm when something provokes them. Patience is a virtue; it is something we can and must acquire. We must walk along with patience and show the world how wonderful it is to be able to reason out our problems in a composed atmosphere. When a difficult problem arises, we should not become upset. By using patience, we can work out a problem very simply. As we approach adulthood, we must learn to hold our tempers when something upsetting crosses our paths. Anger is present only when patience is lacking. Now we should be old enough and wise enough to recognize this fact. We all need patience whether we are doctors, lawyers, secretaries, or machinists. No matter what the circumstances are, we always need patience.

There are many people who are misunderstood, and we often wonder why. The answer is not too difficult to see. With everyone in a hurry, we do not allow ourselves time to understand problems. We should try to understand as much about people as we can; but we do not. We think we understand juvenile delinquency. Unfortunately, we do not. We think we know what juvenile delinquency is and what causes it; but no one knows in definite terms how young people become delinquents. It is true much time has been spent on the subject; yet questions still arise. Understanding is a time-consuming element. We should carry with us as we graduate from this high school this essential element. We should realize the necessity of this understanding. In the beginning, it will not be difficult to slow down our pace so that we will have the time to understand.

When we take our one step beyond high school, we should do it slowly and cautiously, always remembering to love, to have patience and to understand. It is our job as graduates to show the whole world our capabilities. With work and determination—along with love, patience, and understanding—we should be able to achieve any goal we set.

We must remember that the step from high school to the active world around us is one of the greatest changes we will make in our lives. As we enter into our respective fields, we must keep in mind love, understanding, and patience, the three elements that will help us take our one step beyond.

MARILYN MANN

Salutatory

MARX, LENIN, KHRUSHCHEV, AND YOU

Marx formulated it; Lenin put it into practice; and Khruschev has raised it to its present position. It has cost many men their lives; it has caused millions to flee their homes and countries; and it has enslaved one-third of the world's population. It is an opponent of liberty; a mockery of justice; and a menace to society. Its name is Communism.

As we are gathered here today for the climax of our high school years, it is difficult for us to understand Communism. It is an idea completely alien to our way of thinking. Yet, as the future citizens of the United States and the future safeguarders of democracy, it is our duty to recognize the dangers of Communism and do our utmost to prevent its progress.

What is Communism? A synonym for it is "dialectical materialism." Do not let this big term scare you. It is not difficult to understand when you break it down. It is composed of two words, "dialectical" and "materialism."

You are already familiar with the materialism part of the term. The Communists seek to conquer the world. It is their one objective and they do not care what means they must use to get it. They may take over a country with armed insurrection as they did in China, or they may sway leaders of foreign countries to join the Communist camp as they did in Cuba. They may use subversion, propaganda, or force but they want only one thing—world conquest.

The other part of the term may not be as familiar to you: dialectical. The Communists are a methodical group of people and they boil everything down to a science. Dialectics is one such science. It cannot be as easily understood by some of us democratic people as the materialism part of Communism but to the Communist it is just as important. For dialectics is the science by which the Communists try to keep the Western World confused. They rattle their bombs and their missiles, then they extend us their hand of peace only so that they may strike us off balance with the other hand. Khrushchev sends missiles, soldiers, and technicians to Cuba. When the going gets rough and he is obliged to evacuate his missiles, he wisely decides to do so. Everyone says, "Thank you, Mr. Khrushchev, we are glad you pulled out of Cuba." Yet we read in the newspaper months after the crisis that there are still thousands of troops in Cuba! This is dialectics at its prime. It is the perfect policy of two steps forward and one step back by which the Communists hope to spread their materalistic views throughout the world.

Do not let Khrushchev's policy of "peaceful coexistence" fool you. Many people think that Mr. Khrushchev is just a regular-type guy who is being pressured into bullying the West. This is the farthest thing from the truth. The fact is that Khrushchev is one of the shrewdest, most cunning, and coldest men that the world has ever known. He is a model Communist because he uses dialectics and materialism together as a winning team. He had to be shrewd in order to attain his high position of power. Proof of his cunning can be found in the shoe-pounding incident at the United Nations. Prime Minister MacMillan was speaking to the assembly, publicly denouncing Communism in front of the newly-formed Afro-Asian block. It was the time of reckoning. If the Afro-Asian countries could be made to see the tyranny of Communism, its spread would be effectively checked in those countries. But what happened? Bam! Bam! Bam! Does anyone remember what MacMillan said? No! But the scene of Khrushchev pounding his shoe is vivid in everyone's mind. What an effect this must have had on the new African countries!

It is tricks such as these that the Communists are using in an attempt to win over new countries. They have realized that a nuclear war is not feasible and they have turned to another type of warfare to win battles. The battles are battles of the mind; the warfare is psychological warfare; and the weapon is propaganda. It is a new kind of warfare and we have not yet learned how to deal with it. But one thing is certain: one of the counter-weapons in this warfare is knowledge. The best way to be well prepared is to be well informed. This is not a personal battle between President Kennedy of the United States and Premier Khrushchev of the U.S.S.R. It is a personal battle between you and Communism.

What can you do about it? Inform yourself. Check up about Communism. Go out and read a book about it—there are plenty in your town library: Masters of Deceit, You Can Trust the Communists, The Khrushchev Pattern—these are a few. Read your newspaper in the editorial section or even on the front page you will find news about Communism. You owe it to yourself and to your country to look into it. Each and every mind should be a fortress against Communism. As you go your various ways down the road of life, remember to use your knowledge in the fight against Communism so that the world will be a better place to live in.

JOHN BOVITZ

Class Essay

NEW WORLDS TO CONQUER

Today will be a beginning for the members of our graduating class. We are now becoming adults and entering upon the new frontiers of work and responsibility. We are no longer school children with school children's responsibilities.

Just as Allan Shepherd made his memorable flight into outer space, discovering many of the unknown problems that will face space travel, we, as nineteen hundred and sixty-three graduates, must meet and attempt to find the solution to the many problems that will face us in our futures.

After graduation, as adults we will have to solve our own problems as they arise. Our parents, our friends, and our teachers will not always be available to help us make many important decisions that may affect our entire lives. We will be the product of our own endeavors.

It is up to each individual who is graduating today to develop his own life into what he wants it to be. Each must decide for himself what is right and what is wrong. All of us must decide what we want from life and strive to achieve it.

Several are entering the world of further education. Many different types of education may be completed through colleges, and technical or business schools. Every person must make the most of his future training.

Many of today's graduates will have to work their way through school without any financial aid from their parents. Other graduates will be fortunate enough to receive aid from scholarships or from their families. The government, through the National Defense Education Act, is making student loans available. Banks, too, are offering educational loan plans. Financial aid for further schooling is available if we want to spend some of our time to search for it.

Some of us will eventually go into business for ourselves. When starting a new business, a person must put aside the thought of a new car or a new house. He will have to spend every moment tending his business, not playing golf or going fishing. It will take many years of perseverance to gain success in business.

We must realize that we are the leaders of tomorrow. We are the ones that will be solving the world problems. The boys in our graduating class will be the soldiers who will be fighting to protect our country from foreign aggressors. Who knows? Perhaps one of the graduating class of nineteen hundred and sixty-three will someday become principal of Wilmington High School. Another may become president of a local industrial concern. There is no way of foretelling the fate of our class.

Today is probably the last time we will be assembled as a high school class. We will henceforth have only memories of our "schooldays." We must now look ahead and plan for our future. We must face adult responsibilities as Americans.

JOHN ROBERTSON

Class Prophecy

Members of Wilmington High School's Class of 1963 are gathering in the grand ballroom of the Statler Hilton for their tenth reunion. It seems they had to find some meeting place other than the old Alma Mater because dear old Wilmington High School finally had one bomb scare too many.

As one looks over the crowd, he sees a wide range of professions represented. Marilyn Mann and John Robertson are sitting at the head table for being Valedictorian and Essayist, respectively. Four very distinguished men, clad in uniforms, can be seen in the middle of the hall. They are Allan Baker, James Doucette, Joseph Flemming, and Joseph Waterhouse who have become joint Chiefs of Staff enforcing the National Defense Program.

Marie Abromovitch became a well known dancer. Dick Allard, who was our fearless leader for four years, is now looking for any organization in need of leadership. The musical talent in the class is headed by Linda Arsenault, who sings with her husband's band. Lawrence Welk has long since been replaced by Billy Ballou, George Shaw, Billy Cotter, John Marsi, Ray Falagan, Billy Durrant, Bob Curtis. The image of "Tom Douley" is still perpetuated by Alan Park. Debbie Gaskill, Sandra Goodearl, and MaryMargaret Sullivan al sing with the national opera.

David Babine traded in his grey Cadillac for a pink one. Carol Balch just kept "wada-ing." Gary Balser bought out the Lowell Sun and re-named it the Wilmington Cloud. Granny Feeney, alias Barbara Beddeos, led a very fruitful existence. She finally found her teeth and Grandpa Feeney. Fred Berger, noted psychologist, is autographing his recently published book disproving Freud's theory of free association.

The world will never want for Florence Nightingales while Rita Bevilacqua, Pat Browne, Jean Laffin remain. Marjorie Haines, however, is about to be de-capped for mistaking a hypodermist of dexadrine for a sedative. Marshall Bishop and Janice Hartwell are very excitedly discussing their contract to modernize the Sistine Chapel with Bonnie Coombs, who is to supply the new furnishings. Jay Boeri has become a very successful lady's man, due to his big and beautiful eyes and his cross country ability. Mary Bongiorno finally got tired of saying good morning and now says good night.

Cathie Bousfield achieved her goal by buying Winchester Hospital and assigning someone else to work in the kitchens. Alice Chisholm and Diane Bova went into partnership in establishing a clothing concern for those petite-petite girls. Donny Hubbard took the hint and is now establishing a men's branch. John Bovitz became principal of Wilmington High School so he can tell his jokes any time he wants.

A large number of athletes are present. Jackie Bowen now plays for the New York Giants. Kenny Barrett finally won the middle-weight championship after defeating the coach. Mike Farrell is apprentice to Yogi Berra. Rose Elliot, Joyce Randell, and Peggy Montague have slightly altered the status of the Boston Celtics. Pat Fiske and Jeff Williamson are on the Olympic Skating team . . . Pat did most of her practicing between Wilmington and University of Mass. Willard Fuller has done a splendid job managing David's sports career. Nancie Budd finally became a full fledged flower. Kathie Butler is still leading Wilmington High School with the call, "Left, right, left."

Bob Carlson patented some of those facetious jokes of his. Brad Case, after a very hard struggle, has mastered the art of algebra, together with Stephen Meades, who is still amazing us with his mathematical feats. Virginia Casey never lost her spirit and is still cheering us onward. Joanne Cavallaro and Futh O'Donnell stole Richie's Alpha when he wasn't looking and are now living in New York. Ricky Alley is not present. He left the East for California long ago. George Costa became a professional set designer on Broadway. Dennis Crispo took his father's chair on the school committee. Jackie Shemkus, Marylou Cunningham, and Emily Woods recently opened a beauty salon and are enjoying a thriving business.

David Dayton is explaining his plans to construct a bridge across the Atlantic Ocean to a group of astonished onlookers. The teaching profession was not neglected by the class of '63. Pat and Gerry McCue, both Alumnae of Boston College, are now teaching grade school with Judy Lafaver. Bob Frenette is a French professor at Columbia. Tres bien! Anne Boutwell assumed her rightful position as head of the Boutwell School. Joyce Frankel, as always, brings that little touch of Brooklyn to Boston. Doug Frost is about to be made second Poet Laureate of the country. Fred Frotten got his brakes adjusted and is in the corner explaining their where-abouts to Wilma Nelson. Richard Gallagher will always be remembered for his personality and ambition. Judy Garrett and Judy Russell are now working in the front office of DeMoulas. Dana Gillis and Nancy Kemp supervised the preparations for the dinner including an appetizer of peanuts.

Jimmy Gillis finally realized the Merits of Old Cape Cod. Yolande Girourd, once named man hater is married and has eight children. Dotty Grinley and Joan Hannaford are also among those who are happily married. James Graham is still amusing everyone with his ever-brilliant remarks, as is Tommy Grant. Cheryl Graham established a driving school featuring the new method. Christine Gunn, as always, is making a big noise in the world. Al Hall has reigned as Mr. Universe for the past year. Susán Hall and Eileen O'Connell are now both six feet tall, collectively, that is.

Judy Halpin and Artie Zaino got married and now have three children. Judy teaches them field hockey and Artie shows them the art of track. Kathy Harrington is still trying to collect dues. Carol Hastings joined the paratroopers with Jackson. Cliff Huston much to his delight changed from ugh to ah. Nancy Jacobus and Billy Williamson are still looking down on everyone in the hall. Donna Kirby looks as lovely as she did on the night she was crowned Queen of the Junior Prom. Arlene Landry never developed her vocal cords. She is seen but not heard. Elaine LaRivee still loves a parade and wants everyone on the bandwagon. Alfred Lawrence's claim to fame is that he replaced Fenway on WMEX.

Merillee Layne is still debating with Richard Silverman and being backed up by Kathy Levasseur. Geraldine Lacaroz is laid out on the football field with Mrs. Lee looking on. Richard Lee designed his own home in the Connecticut Valley. It will appear in next month's issue of Mad Magazine. Earl L'Esperance, Henry Gilhouley, Eddie Carleton, Malcolm Anderson, Eddie White, Jackie McCabe, and Earl Shrier all have a deep tan after returning from Tanginiqua with the Peace Corps. Bobby Lewis was late because Donna wrecked his car and they had to take a cab. Kenny Lind is sitting, very pensively by himself, trying to decide what kind of car to buy this time. Vivi-Ann Linde is very popular this evening as she has invited everyone back to her house for an old fashioned smorgasbord. Judy McDonald won a Stanford Fellowship for her writing talents. Danny MacKay is permanently living the life of Wally Cox and is finally going to show us those slides of the play.

Richard McCauley is making up more problems for Mr. Melchiono. Gail McCormack was elected first woman President last fall and is doing a magnificent job in maintaining our relations with Ireland. Winnie McCormick is still defending the name. Franny McLaughlin and Mary Simes are married with four little McLaughlins to keep them busy. Janet Duggan, Joanne Baker, and Martha Melzar became private secretaries. Raynor Metcalfe is still trying to get that go-cart to go without much success though. Peggy Carbone will always be remembered for her vibrant personality.

Susan Moore is at long last receiving compensation for working at the North Wilmington Drug Store. Barry Mulholland is looking for the great American novel. He has almost given up and decided to write his own. Burnie Murray is causing quite a commotion with his proclamation that the South will rise again.

John Natoli is still known as Natolie. Gerald Paglia made quite a success of himself in the cultured polyp business. Virginia Peck is still the comedienne she has always been and her sparkling humor is appreciated by all. Curtis Pellerin owns his own gambling casino in northwest Wilmington. What can we say about Frank Perdicaro except that Frank is still frank.

Richard Pereira is a public relations man for the Boston Baby Carriage Company. Stuart Ring became a veterinarian and is now curing all of Wyoming's horses. Johnny Robbins finally found out what was in that bowl. Beverly Rogers is producing a new movie, "The Return of Davey Crockett." Frank Sarica and Stephen Savage both achieved their goals. Nancy Slater is a photographer for the New York Times. Who knows, maybe there's a Kennedy left for her. Billy Sousa is still flying high with John Phillip. Billy Stickney just put another pipe in his hot Ford. The Guidance Office still thanks Kenny Sugarman for the life savers. Roy Wahl has been re-elected Mayor of Boston three times now, thanks to his oratory ability, no doubt.

Paula Tucker answered the call of the wide open spaces and bought herself a ranch to raise horses. June Wallace organized the local youth group. Neil Woodside is gone to Laos to lead the freedom fighters. Lorraine Yentile and Diane Zaccagnini are still wishing their names began with "A" or "B." Billy Watt will be remembered by all of us as a shining figure.

As the evening draws to a close, we think ahead ten years to the next reunion when there will be a few more executives and a lot more grey hairs.

LUCY KEOUGH

Class History

In September of 1957, we, the class of 1963, entered Wilmington High School as starry-eyed seventh graders. We were lost in the corridors, confused at the changing of classrooms, pushed around by upperclassmen, but still proud to be a part of our school. Our representatives to the Student Council were Rita Bevilacqua, Elaine LaRivee, and Gerald Paglia.

In 1958, we returned to the halls of ivy as excited eighth graders. Rita Bevilacqua, Joanne Cavallaro, and Gail McCormack served on the Student Council. In June, at our eighth grade graduation, we received diplomas to mark the end of our years in Junior High School.

When we returned to school in 1959, we were affected by double sessions. Our class was the first to start off with five major subjects in the freshman year. Joanne Cavallaro, and Richard Silverman represented us on the Student Council. The ninth grade also marked our beginning as an organized class. We had no social activities, but we did elect class officers. They were Richard Allard, President; Joyce Randell, Vice President; Rita Bevilacqua, Secretary; and Judy Lafaver, Treasurer.

When we returned to school in 1960, we became sophomores or "wise fools." Our first duty was to elect class officers. Richard Allard and Joyce Randell were re-elected to their positions, Peggy Carbone was elected Secretary and Kathy Harrington was elected Treasurer. Members of the Student Council were Diane Bova, Nancie Budd, and Jackie Shemkus. In December, we had the first of many successful dances, "Winter Wonderland." The Crystals supplied the music for our dance.

Our Junior year commenced in 1961 and was one of the most exciting years in our history. We had the prestige of being upperclassmen without the responsibility of Seniors. It was a year of fun, victory, and studies. Our football team was undefeated and our baseball team took the crown of league champions. Gail McCormack, Nancie Budd, Joanne Cavallaro, and Stewart Ring were elected to the Student Council. To lead us through another successful year we elected Richard Allard, Jackie Bowen, Peggy Carbone, and Kathy Harrington as class officers. In October, we chose the design for our class rings, which we received later on in the year. Our first dance of the year was "Harvest Holiday" with music by the Belvadeers.

On March sixteenth, 1962, "Moonlight Serenade," our Junior prom, was held in the high school gym. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Donna Kirby as queen. At a later class meeting we presented gifts of appreciation to Mr. Saba and Mr. Breakey for their help in making our dinner dance a success.

May seventh through May twelfth brought Junior Week. It was a week of fun, surprises and entertainment. May seventh was dress-up day and May eighth, the Junior Banquet. On May ninth we performed a matinee for the elementary schools. This helped increase our treasury as well as giving the cast a dress rehearsal. May eleventh and May twelfth were the big nights for our Junior Variety Show. Miss MacDonald and Miss Sharp did a great job directing this class effort. We will be eternally indebted to them for the help that they so willingly provided.

In September 1962, we returned to Wilmington High School as those mighty creatures, SENIORS! It was fun to be the big wheels of the school for a change and many were affected with that age-old affliction, "Senioritis."

Our Junior year officers were all re-elected to serve us in our Senior year and they all proved to be capable workers. We also elected Nancie Budd, Joanne Cavallaro, Frank Perdicaro, Donna Sutton, and Roy Wahl to the Student Council. Our football team was undefeated for the second year in a row and even tied for State champions in Class C.

The Senior class sold charm bracelets to the underclassmen and this proved to be a successful undertaking. October twenty-sixth was the date of our first dance as Seniors, "The Monster Mash." The Monarchs came and played for an hour at the dance and records were played for the rest of the evening.

Rita Bevilacqua, Mike Farrell, and John Bovitz were chosen as co-editors of the yearbook.

In December, the Senior Class sponsored "Mr. Peepers" and our thanks go to Miss Muldoon, Mr. Egar, Mr. Grant, and Mr. Hamilton for their contribution toward the success of the play.

All of the classes in the High School voted and chose Mike Farrell to be our representative for Student Government Day in Boston.

After much dispute the class finally decided on "One Summer Night, Under the Moon of Love" as our Senior Prom. The prom was held on May seventeenth and Bonnie Coombs was chosen queen. Jack Hennesey and his orchestra supplied the music and everyone had a wonderful time. June sixth was the night of our Senior Banquet. On June ninth, 1963, we graduated from Wilmington High School. As we take our last glimpse at our years at Wilmington High School, we finally realize that we are leaving childhood behind us.

It is time for us to leave yet we cannot without one final word of thanks.

Thanks to our teachers, to our devoted advisor, Mr. Breakey, to our devoted counselor, Mr. Gallucci, to our parents and to our friends for it was through their guidance that we stand ready to face the challenges of a nation.

JUDITH HALPIN

Class Will

We, the Wilmington High School Class of 1963, being of comparatively sound mind and body, and being eager to dispose of our tangible and intangible possessions before leaving, do hereby bestow and bequeath the following to those we leave behind:

DAVE BABINE, JACKIE BOWEN, BILLY BALLOU, ALBIE HALL, CLIFF HUSTON, FRANNIE McLAUGHLIN, and FRANK PERDICARO leave their uniforms and numbers to another championship football team. DICK ALLARD leaves Joe Brewster his track shoes, because Joe never had a pair of his own. LINDA ARSENAULT leaves her old type projects to Sue Veloza so that she can get her work in on time. CAROL BALCH leaves her sister Jean all those English books that helped her so much during her Senior year. KATHY (Mrs. Gurny) BUTLER leaves Mr. Eagar one dry towel, and Mr. Hamilton two tranquilizers. THE CUPIDS of Mr. Kelley's Math Class leave the wounded heart of their classmate to their favorite math teacher. They also leave the better portion of their lives, spent in the Guidance Office, to Mr. Gallucci. GARY BALSER leaves his wisdom and textbooks to the Class of 1964. CAROL HASTINGS, ELAINE LaRIVEE, MARILYN MANN, PAULA TUCKER, and VIVI-ANN LINDE leave the Class of '64 their private office in the girls' room by 115. JEAN LAFFIN leaves Mr. Kelley's Math Class puzzled. To any girl who will love him like a Daddy, MARYLOU CUNNINGHAM leaves Mr. Driscoll. She also leaves Mr. Sullivan in peace and quiet at last. ROSE ELLIOT leaves her dirty locker in the team room, her sweaty socks, and her holey sneakers to her cousin, Valerie Spratt. JUDY LAFAVER leaves Laurie McCabe all the things she should have done and didn't do. She knows that Laurie will do them to the best of her ability. GERRY McCUE leaves all her Miles to Mr. Kelley. BILL SOUSA leaves his jangled nerves to next year's boxers, and his dimples to all the junior girls. JAY BOERI, FRED BERGER, and STUIE RING leave a walking cane to the Cross Country team. RITA BEVILACQUA leaves her little brother JOHN the right to be the snobbiest and most mischievous member of his class. NANCIE BUDD leaves her job at the flower shop to any other bud who wants it. To any girl named Nancy, Cathy, or Bonnie who wants to miss gym, BONNIE COOMBS leaves a study last period on Friday. The only requirement is: Have an excuse ready! BARRY MULHOLLAND leaves all the upcoming "Pillars of Society" the vast wisdom available to the willing student at W.H.S., from several battle-weary teachers. YOLANDE GIROUARD leaves her appendix at the hospital. JANET DUGGAN, DOROTHY GRINLEY, JOAN HANNAFORD, ARLENE LANDRY, NANCY JACOBUS, NANCY KEMP, DONNA KIRBY, GINNIE PECK, JUDY RUSSELL, BEVERLY ROGERS, and PEGGY MONTAGUE all leave the Commercial Department with the massive job of starting all over again next year. BRAD CASE leaves his full name, Bradford, to Mr. Kelley, because he likes so much to say it. PAT BROWNE leaves Mr. Breakey, her homeroom teacher, all her tardy slips; JERRY PAGLIA leaves Mr. Breakey his goatee because he wanted it the most. RUTH O'DONELL leaves Wilmington to go to Harvard Square. BARBARA BEDDEOS and GAIL McCORMACK leave Mr. Sullivan all the notes they passed in his room so that he can read them at last. GINNI CASEY leaves next year's football cheerleaders her red face and worn-out vocal cords. BOB CARLSON leaves the juniors, his infectious laugh in the hope that they all get contaminated. RICHARD LEE leaves, but he takes his drafting projects with him. DIANA BOVA leaves all the underclassmen the left-over Senior boys. JOHN BOVITZ leaves the unfortunate person who takes the job of editing the yearbook next year a bottle of aspirin. SUSAN MOORE leaves Sherrill Pote all the detention she never got, one more year at W.H.S., and all the dead birds she cares to sniff at. BILLY WATT leaves W.H.S. almost as care-free-ly as he came in. JOE FLEMMING, ALAN BAKER, and DAVID HARTLEY all leave Wilmington for the service. BOB FRENETTE leaves Mrs. Baran his French accent. JOHN ROBERTSON leaves his good marks to anyone who will work for them. To next year's gym classes standing inspection, ANNE BOUTWELL leaves one pair of holey sneakers, a pair of dirty white socks, and a wrinkled gym suit. PAT McCUE, DONNA SUTTON, and LORRAINE YENTILE leave Mr. Sullivan one stick of gum so he can enjoy what they have enjoyed in his room for the past year. MARSHALL BISHOP leaves Mr. Lentine a few single-edged razor blades. CHRISTINE GUNN does not leave Billy. BILLY WILLIAMSON does not leave Christine. MARY BONGIORNO leaves to the Class of '64 one pair of galoshes that served her so well on all those stormy mornings when the whistle never blew. To his brother, Joseph Costa, Jr., GEORGE COSTA leaves luck in his favorite English Class. PAT FISKE leaves Nancy Weinberg all her missed Mondays and Fridays to use during the next season. BOB CURTIS leaves his empty paint tubes to any of next year's senior art majors. CATHIE BOUSFIELD leaves 6 carrotts, 2 cabbages, and 1⅓ heads of lettuce to the junior who will thrive on them, Br'er David Zaino. DANNA GILLIS leaves "Rosey" her pink Driver-Ed book in the hope that the Registry will let her on the road; and CHERYL GRAHAM leaves her driving skill to any underclassman who wants it. MIKE FARRELL, in completely blank mind, leaves Coach Gilligan one good, but slightly worn, throwing arm and a .100 batting average to be used again with more success next year. MERRILEE LAYNE leaves her many poetry prizes as a goal to be achieved by one of next year's seniors. JANICE HARTWELL leaves with the thanks of all the seniors for her work in decorating the gym. BERNIE MURRAY leaves nothing. BOBBY LEWIS leaves, still tired, despite the sleep he almost got in Chemistry class. JOYCE FRANKEL leaves all the oil paints she didn't use to the art department. DAVE FULLER leaves Beverly Barcellos one locker all to herself. To Dennis Barnaby, RAY FALAGAN leaves his guitar, broken picks, and amplifier. So that he can stuff the ball next year, TOM GRANT leaves Keith Arnold all his height. SUE HALL leaves her sister, Nancy, all her field trips. KATHY HARRINGTON leaves Mr. Gallucci a bottle of aspirin, a bottle of bufferin, and a tall glass of water to help ease the headache he got while listening to all her tales of woe. DAVID DAYTON leaves next year's Advanced Math Classes tetrahedrons, hexahedrons, octahedrons, dodecahedrons, and icosahedrons. JIMMY GILLIS leaves Richard Page a record of 69 personal fouls, just in case he runs out next season. PEGGY CARBONE leaves her brother, Tommy, her English grammar book. JUDY HALPIN leaves her sister, Lillian, the Halpin family basketball uniform #13, but she is taking Artie with her. MARGIE HAINES leaves her brother Joe her National Honor Society pin, in case he ever gets to be a senior. To any stoic, athletically-inclined girl, KATHY PUSHEE leaves her position as fullback on the field hockey team, as well as her uniform, number, and bruises. ROY WAHL leaves his teachers somewhat tireder, wiser, and more amazed. To Mr. Desmond, WINNIE McCORMICK leaves the memory of all the fun she had in the process of getting her license. MALCOLM ANDERSON and DICKIE GALLAGHER leave because they have full-time jobs. FRED FROTTEN leaves one slightly used pen for writing term papers, book reports, and themes. JAMES GRAHAM leaves James O'Hara two extra credits. DANNY MacKAY leaves, taking with him all the fines he collected at Rotary. WIMA NELSON leaves all her thanks to the teachers who have helped her over the past four years. DOUGLAS FROST leaves his great personality to Mr. Lentine. FRANK SARICA and RICHARD SILVERMAN leave their corner in the cafeteria to all the intellectually-inclined. BILL COTTER wills his perfect attendance and promptness record to the juniors. GEORGE SHAW and MARY SIMES leave the Commercial department all their long hours over a hot typewriter. RICHARD PEREIRA leaves Mrs. Baran all her charm, grace, and wit, which she so admired. DEBBIE GASKILL leaves Miss Kalil a megaphone to use at chorus rehearsals. DONNY HUBBARD, BILLY STICKNEY, and JACKIE McCABE leave Wilmington High as fast as they can. DENNIS CRISPO leaves Mr. Kelley's Algebra II class to his cousin, David. WILLARD FULLER leaves debits and credits, allowance for bad debts, supplies, and supply expenses to Mr. Shiere. JUDI MacDONALD leaves Mr. Kelley the three things he wanted most: 1 box of dustless chalk, a screw driver, and 1 open porthole. She also leaves Mr. Sullivan 1300 pounds of white sand for his back yard. NANCY SLATER regretfully leaves her wonderful "second Mother." KENNY SUGARMAN leaves a little of himself on the baseball field. JACKIE SHEMKUS leaves Joyce Chinn Chuckie and a set of bells. To all of next year's students, JUDY GARRETT leaves her teachers, books, pencils, and luck. MARYMARGARET SULLIVAN leaves her Rotary pin to next year's best music student. To James O'Hara, RAYNOR METCALF leaves his hot Ford with the stock T-bird, and memories of many good times together. To all striving underclassmen, STEVE MEADS leaves his 20-year pin and retirement plan. ROSE PISANI leaves several seniors amazed at her tumbling abilities. KENNY LIND leaves, owing rides to about half the senior girls. KENNY BARRETT does not leave his soft job to anyone. JOHN MARSI leaves the running of the school in the capable hands of the junior class. JOYCE RANDELL, who was bequeathed a bottle of red hair dye in last year's will, leaves this same bottle to any junior girl who wants to be a redhead. GINNIE VALENTINO and SANDY GOODEARL leave their quiet manners as an example to the underclassmen. EDDIE CARLETON, JOE WATERHOUSE, NEIL WOODSIDE, EDDIE WHITE, EARL SHRIER, and JOHNNY ROBBINS all leave the school system slightly disrupted. HENRY GILHOOLY, ALFRED LAWRENCE, EARL LESPERANCE, and RICHARD McCAULEY leave nothin' to no one. JUNE WALLACE, GERRY LACAROZ, and KATHY LAVASSEUR leave all their problems to Mr. Grant. LUCY KEOUGH leaves Mr. Kelley the Eternal Dissentor of next year's senior class. ARTIE ZAINO leaves his distance in the shot put to Jon Fairfield so he'll hit at least 60 feet next season. JOANNE BAKER leaves her baton to the majorettes. JOHN NATOLI, CURTIS PELLERAN, ALLEN PARK, and STEVEN SAVAGE all leave quite willingly. BILLY DURANT leaves his drippy candle to the National Honor Society. ALICE CHISOLM leaves her mighty voice to another tiny basketball cheerleader. JOANNE CAVALLARO leaves a lighted lamp to guide all the lost juniors home. Last, but not least, JEFF WILLIAMSON (in positively sound mind) leaves Dennis DeMaggio $1.25 so he can get a haircut.

To all who have known us over the past four years, the Class of 1963 leaves behind what we hope is a very good impression of itself.
